

Auxerrois Moenchreben de Rorschwihr

The Moenchreben Vineyard covers 17ha and is located in the Eastern side of Rorschwihr. Moenchreben is an Alsatian name that means the "Monks' Vineyard". The soil type is clayey-marly. Clay is the main component of this soft, but compact rock giving soils that are always heavy and fat. The wines from these terroirs take longer to mature. The soil gives them a powerful structure offset by an array of mineral aromas.

Grape varieties : Auxerrois

Press Notes

Soil : Clayey-marly

Wine Spectator

Alcohol : 12%

2008

91 points

Tasting notes :

The nose is floral, smoky with some flinty aromas and a touch of almond. Juicy peach and pear, rich and opulent, great acidity. Pairs very well with monkfish as well as chicken fricassee or with a rich cream-based sauce.

