Bouchon Winery is located in the famed California wine-producing region of Sonoma County. The grapes are sourced by Po, owner and proprietor of Bouchon, from long term contracted vineyards in Monterey, Santa Cruz, and Central Coast Counties. Since the establishment of the winery in the 1930s, Bouchon's seasoned winemaker selects and blends grapes exclusively from the most reputable vineyards of California. Honoring traditions and methods of the past, he creates only the finest blends of California wines for wine enthusiasts around the world. As the grapes arrive at the winery during each harvest, the Bouchon winemaker selects those of exceptional quality and monitors their development as they mature, re-tasting until he has identified the barrels which express the finest style of California wines. Only these merit being called "Bouchon Superior Reserve". Bouchon wines are rich and full-bodied and express the character of Sonoma's signature style of Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot and Chardonnay.
