BiancaVigna was founded in 2004 by siblings Enrico and Elena Moschetta. They wanted to make top-quality sparkling wines under their own label with grapes grown in family vineyards that belonged to their grandfather Genesio since the beginning of the 20th century. BiancaVigna was created out of a bond between people, the land, and wine, and as a tribute to the beauty and tradition of the hillside vineyards of Conegliano-Valdobbiadene. It was born from Enrico's twenty-year experience in winemaking and Elena's entrepreneurial vision, supported in the Italian and international export market by her husband Luca Cuzzio. The outline of the vineyards in the hills of San Gallo inspired the logo of BiancaVigna and the names Bianca and Vigna refer to the white Glera grape. The estate is located in Ogliono in the heart of the Conegliano-Valdobbiadene DOCG, a region famous for its Prosecco wines and recently named a UNESCO World Heritage site. The Moschetta's 32-hectare property includes vineyards in three areas - Conegliano, San Pietro di Feletto, and Soligo. Enrico is deeply focused on expressing the unique qualities of each terroir and BiancaVigna wines are truly a representation of regional specificity and careful winemaking. Today Biancavigna wines are available around the world and in Italy at Michelin-starred restaurants, leading international hotels, and selected wine shops.
