Domaine A.F. Gros, founded in 1988 by Anne-Françoise Gros, is a jewel of Burgundy, located in the storied village of Pommard. This estate stands out for its remarkable expressions of Pinot Noir, which capture both the elegance and depth emblematic of the region's finest wines. Winemaking here is a meticulous craft, overseen by François Parent, a Pommard native with a globally recognized reputation. Parent's approach combines traditional Burgundian techniques with modern precision, emphasizing gentle handling, minimal intervention, and careful aging in French oak barrels. The resulting wines are harmonious and complex, offering a perfect balance of aromatic purity and structural finesse. Today, the next generation of the family carries forward this legacy. Caroline, one of Anne-Françoise and François's children, spearheads winemaking, ensuring that each cuvée reflects the nuance of its terroir. Her brother Mathias oversees the estate's growth, strategy, and international distribution, reinforcing the family's commitment to excellence. Domaine A.F. Gros is a benchmark for Pinot Noir lovers, embodying the precision and soul of Burgundy while continuing to push boundaries in vineyard care and winemaking innovation.
