

ATHANASIOU WINERY

Nemea, Greece

Athanasiou Winery is a family-owned estate in Nemea, Greece's largest PDO wine region, where the Athanasiou family has been involved in viticulture since 1855 and established its modern winery in 2007 in the heart of the appellation. The estate is centered in Nemea's long winemaking history and focuses on native Greek varieties, especially Agiorgitiko and Assyrtiko, to produce distinctive wines that reflect the region's terroir. Organic farming practices are used in the vineyard.
