Sacred Valley Pisco

Master Distiller: Juan Carlos Hidalgo

This Pisco Quebranta is a single varietal Pisco made from the noble non-aromatic Quebranta grapes of the Bodega Doña Juanita in Ica, Peru and is often known as a Pisco Puro. Sacred Valley is produced by Fundo Tres Generaciones, originally established in 1856, in the fertile Ica Valley in Peru. They own their own vineyards, cultivate their own grapes, and control the entire distillation process. This ensures a consistently high level of quality year after year and why they win all those awards. Using centuries-old techniques, this craft Pisco is distilled to proof in copper pot stills without using any additives, coloring or flavors and creates the perfect pisco for making a proper Pisco Sour. Sacred Valley is artisanal with small batch limited production. Distillation occurs only during March or April after the fall grape harvest. Average annual production of Sacred Valley, 20,000 liters, the distillery produces 50,000 liters annually on average of all types of Piscos.
