Harlequin is an innovative red wine that is made from many grapes, which is unique and authentic in every vintage but which is always recognizable in its kaleidoscopic variability because it interprets the vineyards, the soil and the culture of its terroir.

Grape varieties: Garganega, Trebbiano Toscano, Sauvignon Blanc, Chardonnay, Corvina, Corvinone, Rondinella, Cabernet Sauvignon, Cabernet Franc, Merlot, Syrah, Teroldego, Croatina, Oseleta, Sangiovese, Marzemino.

Altitude: 150-450m ASL

Soil: Clay limestone, volcanic and glacial

Alcohol: 15%

Tasting notes: Intriguing is perhaps the word that best sums up this wine. It is a rich ruby-red in appearance, without being excessively opaque. It displays purplish reflections and is dense and viscous. The nose offers a gamut of aromas that both succeed and mingle with each other, yielding a whole variety of fruity fragrances, notes redolent of oriental spices, herbal perfumes and scents of chocolate and preserves.
