Passopisciaro

Franchetti Terre Siciliane IGT

Franchetti is a wine but also a footprint. The personal footprint of Andrea Franchetti on Etna. It is not a coincidence that this wine carries his name.

Grape varieties 60% Petit Verdot, 40% Cesanese d'Affile

Altitude 800m ASL

Soil 15,000 years old pyroclastic lava soil

Tasting notes

Franchetti has the presence of a dark thoroughbred—powerful, sleek and tightly wound. It unfolds gradually in the glass, starting restrained before revealing dusty dried florals, plum, brown spice, cardamom, savory herbs and a hint of cocoa. The palate is rich and velvety, almost weighty, yet energized by brisk acidity and tart fruit that keeps it in balance, finishing with a gentle grip of polished tannins, dark floral tones, and lingering black currant.

Banville
Wine Merchants

www.banville wine.com

Passopisciaro

Franchetti Terre Siciliane IGT

Franchetti is a wine but also a footprint. The personal footprint of Andrea Franchetti on Etna. It is not a coincidence that this wine carries his name.

Grape varieties 60% Petit Verdot, 40% Cesanese d'Affile

Altitude 800m ASL

Soil 15,000 years old pyroclastic lava soil

Tasting notes

Franchetti has the presence of a dark thoroughbred—powerful, sleek and tightly wound. It unfolds gradually in the glass, starting restrained before revealing dusty dried florals, plum, brown spice, cardamom, savory herbs and a hint of cocoa. The palate is rich and velvety, almost weighty, yet energized by brisk acidity and tart fruit that keeps it in balance, finishing with a gentle grip of polished tannins, dark floral tones, and lingering black currant.

Banville
Wine Merchants

www.banville wine.com

Passopisciaro

Franchetti Terre Siciliane IGT

Franchetti is a wine but also a footprint. The personal footprint of Andrea Franchetti on Etna. It is not a coincidence that this wine carries his name.

Grape varieties 60% Petit Verdot, 40% Cesanese d'Affile

Altitude 800m ASL

Soil 15,000 years old pyroclastic lava soil

Tasting notes

Franchetti has the presence of a dark thoroughbred—powerful, sleek and tightly wound. It unfolds gradually in the glass, starting restrained before revealing dusty dried florals, plum, brown spice, cardamom, savory herbs and a hint of cocoa. The palate is rich and velvety, almost weighty, yet energized by brisk acidity and tart fruit that keeps it in balance, finishing with a gentle grip of polished tannins, dark floral tones, and lingering black currant.

Banville
Wine Merchants

www.banville wine.com

Passopisciaro

Franchetti Terre Siciliane IGT

Franchetti is a wine but also a footprint. The personal footprint of Andrea Franchetti on Etna. It is not a coincidence that this wine carries his name.

Grape varieties 60% Petit Verdot, 40% Cesanese d'Affile

Altitude 800m ASL

Soil 15,000 years old pyroclastic lava soil

Tasting notes

Franchetti has the presence of a dark thoroughbred—powerful, sleek and tightly wound. It unfolds gradually in the glass, starting restrained before revealing dusty dried florals, plum, brown spice, cardamom, savory herbs and a hint of cocoa. The palate is rich and velvety, almost weighty, yet energized by brisk acidity and tart fruit that keeps it in balance, finishing with a gentle grip of polished tannins, dark floral tones, and lingering black currant.

Banville
Wine Merchants

www.banville wine.com