

Bassermann-Jordan

Riesling Grosses Gewächs Hohenmorgen

The grapes were hand harvested in mid-October. The yield was only 32 hl/ha to assure a concentrated, rich wine. The grapes were carefully pressed and the must was fermented in stainless-steel tank and traditional large oak casks. After the fermentation, the wine rests for 10 months on the lees and is released a year after the harvest.

Grape varieties Riesling

Altitude 130-140m ASL

Soil Loam, sandstone-gravel, and limestone

Alcohol 13%

Tasting notes

A rich, almost creamy Riesling with great power and significant aging potential. Aromas of ripe peach and apricot combined with minerality and spice give a lot of character to the wine. Enjoy this wine in its youth for freshness and vitality but it will also continue to age beautifully.
