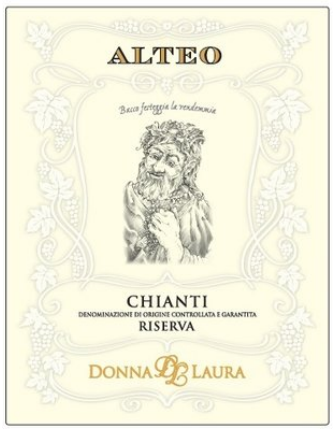
Alteo Chianti Riserva DOCG

The name Alteo is a combination of the names of owner Lia Tolaini-Banville's sons, Alessandro and Matteo. The painting is a detail of Bacchus from artist Rik Olsen's Bramosia painting. Bacchus symbolizes the mischievous nature of her sons, thus a fitting image for Alteo.



Grape varieties Sangiovese

Altitude 250m ASL

Soil Lime and clay, with a considerable presence of gravel

Alcohol 13.5%

Tasting notes

Clear ruby-red color with clean aromas of wild rose, black currant and sour black cherry. Persistent flavors of red berries with soft tannins and an overall fine structure.
